

Privacy Policy for Quarterstaff

Collection of Personal Information

We do not collect, store, use or share any personal information. We do not store or transmit your personal details.

Email

If you email the developer for support or other feedback, the emails with email addresses will be retained for quality assurance purposes. The email addresses will be used only to reply to the concerns or suggestions raised and will never be used for any marketing purpose.

No personal data shared with us will be given to any third party, under any circumstances. Your data will also never be used by us for any purpose without specific permission.

Disclosure of Personal Information

This application engages in no ad targeting, data mining, or other activities that may compromise your privacy, and we do not affiliate ourselves with any third parties that do so. We will not disclose your information to any third party except if you expressly consent or where required by law.

In-Game Feedback Button

Quarterstaff possesses a feature where a player may submit feedback to the developers anonymously, named the "Feedback Button."

The Feedback button in-game sends an anonymous profile of the save settings for troubleshooting and bug fixing. No personal data is attached to this profile.